Atkinson & Partners s.r.o. have provided us with their services for a number of years by mediating leases and sales of property on our behalf and offering real estate consultancy. We rate our cooperation, which is based on many years of experience, as highly professional: it is characterised by speed, reliability, proper conduct and a personal approach. We highly value their capacity to listen to their client's requirements and act upon them, as well as their ability to warn about potential obstacles that could jeopardize the required outcome. Atkinson & Partners s.r.o. are able to effectively find and recommend new solutions when our initial plans are difficult to implement, and to react quickly to changes in the real estate market.
